

Editor's Notes: Acknowledgements 2008-09

I am grateful to the co-editors Bruce Benson, Fred Foldvary, George Selgin, and Larry White and the managing editor Kevin Rollins for all their fine work, and to readers for their interest and feedback.

We are very grateful to John Stephens for building the new EJW website, and to Brett Barkley, Ryan Daza, Tim Peck, and Anton Rasmussen for their help on the project.

We are immensely grateful to the American Institute for Economic Research for their friendship and support, including a three-day EJW conference; especially the president of AIER, Charles E. Murray, and communications director, Ryan Goodenough, and program director Walker Todd, who co-ordinated the conference at AIER.

Also we thank our other donors, especially the Charles G. Koch Charitable Foundation and the Earhart Foundation for their faithful support.

And we are grateful to the Atlas Economic Research Foundation for their friendship and in-kind support in housing EJW within their organization; especially Romulo Lopez and Brad Lips.

We thank these following individuals for helping provide intellectual accountability to EJW.
